Most Copier companies won't tell you what you will have to pay at the expiration of your lease to own your copier and WON'T PUT IT IN WRITING. If their buyout is 30% of $5,735.00 you will pay $1,720.00. Washington Photocopy's 15% buyout is $860.00 and you will save $860.00 leasing your copier from Washington Photocopy.

SUBJECT: Letter of Appreciation

Mr. Joel Lasco
President, Washington Photocopy Corp.
4380 MacArthur Blvd,
NW Washington D.C.   20007

Dear Mr. Lasco:

   Please accept my sincere appreciation for the superb support, understanding and professionalism your company displayed in assisting the White House Communications Agency (WHCA) during the copier replacement project. Although there were several "glitches" that occurred based on WHCA changing procedures and requirements, your staff always responded quickly and efficiently.

   We were also impressed with the courtesy, and helpfullness that Washington Photocopy Corporation showed us. I am confident that any future requirement for assistance will be met in the same professional manner. It is a pleasure to be associated with a company that puts such a high priority on service, customer satisfaction and timely response.

   If your maintenance support is anything like the procurement support we received from you, our selection of Washington Photocopy Corporation as the copier vendor to meet our unique requirements will be justified. Again, I thank-you for your efforts and WHCA looks forward to a successfull "partnership" in providing outstanding copier service.

Outstanding Segment 2 Monochrome MFP,

Ricoh Americas Corporation

www.ricoh-usa.com

Ricoh's Aficio MP 2500 Series has been awarded a Fall 2007 BLI "Pick" in the Segment 2 monochrome MFP category. "The Aficio MP 2500 was an outstanding performer in BLI's two-month lab test, demonstrating flawless reliability, and earned excellent and very good ratings in a number of areas evaluated, including network connectivity attributes such as feedback to workstations and print drivers," said BLI Associate Editor George Mikolay. "Add to this the fact that the device is priced well below the average of competitive models when comparably configured and selecting the Aficio MP 2500 as a BLI 'Pick' was a no-brainer."

In addition to e-mail notifications, the Aficio MP 2500 features pop-up messages and icon and audible alerts to keep users informed of device and job status, which are not available on competitive models BLI has recently tested. In addition, a genuine Adobe PostScript 3 print driver is available.

The 25-ppm device's halftone range and smooth halftone output in both print and copy modes also garnered high praise from BLI's technicians. Print productivity is strong, with results in BLI's job stream evaluation that are well above average, as well as above-average print efficiency when producing multiple sets.

The device is easy to use when compared with other devices in this speed range as well. "Installation procedures for the PCL and RPCS print drivers were highly automated," said Pete Emory, BLI manager of laboratory testing. "Add to this the fact that the RPCS print driver provides access to saved job settings in just one click, along with an intuitive control panel that provides dedicated hard keys for duplex, sort and original type, and you can see why the Aficio MP 2500's ease of use is superior to that of many of its competitors."

"Ricoh's ability to continue to receive high-caliber awards for our multifunction products from highly regarded organizations such as BLI is a testament to our advanced research and development initiatives, state-of-the-art technology, and adept understanding of customers' document management needs," said Michael Hunter, director of corporate product marketing for Ricoh Americas Corporation.

In addition to the base model, which offers standard copy functionality and optional print, scan and fax, Ricoh offers the Aficio MP 2500SPF is available, and incorporates standard copy, print, scan and fax.
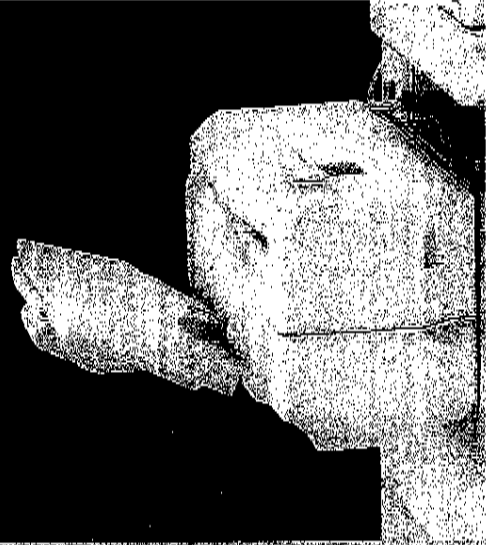

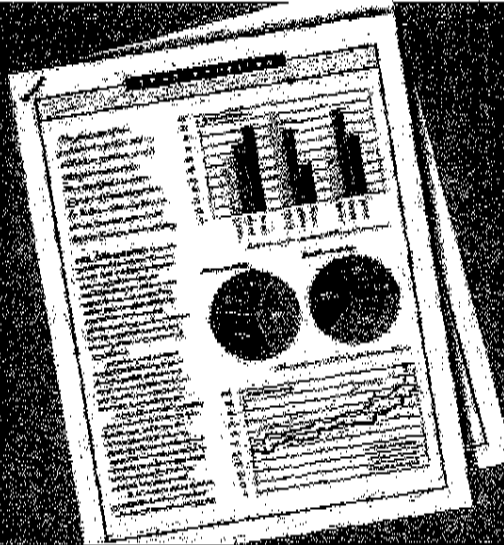

The tested model included copy, print, scan and fax capabilities. With a base price of $3,200, the Aficio MP 2500 is highly recommended by BLI
