

THE LAW FIRM OF PUCKETT AND FARAJ, PC

December 21, 2011

Via email: subpoena@dgwlegal.com
USPS First Class Mail

Dunlap, Grubb & Weaver, PLLC
199 Liberty Street
Leesburg, VA 20175

Re: Copyright Infringement of The Hurt Locker; Mr. Youssef Hassan

Counselors,

My client Mr. Youssef Hassan is in receipt of your letter dated November 23, 2011, demanding $2900 for alleged copyright infringement. Mr. Hassan categorically denies ever downloading The Hurt Locker or any other movie from the internet or a P2P site. He is an elderly gentleman with limited internet proficiency. He has never heard of The Hurt Locker and doubts whether he has ever watched it. He most certainly does not use the internet to download movies or music.

Mr. Hassan is an unsophisticated internet subscriber with an unsecured home network. If as you allege his IP address was used to download or upload The Hurt Locker, rest assured it was not him or anyone acting with his permission or behest.

Mr. Hassan does not wish to be named in a law suit. He recognizes and has been advised of the potential costs of defending a law suit. He has, therefore, authorized me to offer you Five Hundred Dollars ($500) to settle this matter. If you reject his offer, he is prepared to defend and counter-sue to assert his rights and prevent further harassment.

I look forward to your response. I may be reached by email at haytham@puckettfaraj.com or at the number below.

Sincerely,

Haytham Faraj, Esq.