

AT&T BusinessTalk Plans

Control costs when more employees share more minutes.

Share the savings and better manage employee communications.

BusinessTalk Plans make it easy to manage your business users. With these plans, employees share minutes for greater savings. You can even add Push to Talk service, so everyone stays in touch on the go.

Choose from ten different BusinessTalk price levels developed to help you manage your wireless users. When you combine BusinessTalk with an AT&T Mobile Business Agreement you receive a discount on your qualified monthly service charges for your primary line. With an AT&T Mobile Business agreement, you automatically become a member of AT&T Exclusively Business, giving you access to additional business savings and support benefits. See the AT&T for Small Business brochure for complete details.

Share minutes.

As many as 40 employees can share up to 20,000 minutes per month. Your light users and heavy users balance each other out. Employees each have their own wireless device and number and you can monitor their usage online. It's a smart way to control costs.

Mobile to Mobile or Push to Talk? It's your choice.

BusinessTalk Plans include either unlimited Push to Talk or unlimited Mobile to Mobile Minutes—whichever works best for your business. Get all the benefits of the largest Push to Talk coverage area in America by adding Push to Talk service to your BusinessTalk Plan. This walkie-talkie style service lets you connect instantly with others. Talk one-to-one or among a group of contacts simultaneously, and if a short call turns longer, convert to a standard wireless call at the touch of a button. Or with Mobile to Mobile minutes, you can talk to 70 million other AT&T customers.

If you need both features, it's only an additional $9.99 per month per user.

Customer must move to the next Monthly Service Charge if it intends to exceed Maximum Number of Users on current tier. Minutes used will be counted against minutes included in the plan (as applicable depending on the type of plan and time of the call) in the following order: Mobile to Mobile Minutes, Night & Weekend Minutes and Anytime Minutes. When your allotment of included Anytime Minutes has been exhausted, additional minutes are charged at the per-minute rate that corresponds to the applicable Monthly Service Charge.
